(Science, Technology, Engineering, Math)

STEM program starting in grades K-5 in the Fall of 2016. Project Lead The Way (PLTW) provides a comprehensive approach to STEM education and transforms the classroom into a collaborative learning environment. At St. John Vianney School we are combining Catholic values with 21st Century Learning!

We are currently enrolling NOW for the 16/17 school year!

PLTW By The Numbers

More than 8,000 elementary, middle, and high schools in all 50 states and the District of Columbia offer PLTW programs. More than 1 million students are enrolled in PLTW programs. In 2015, PLTW trained more than 10,000 teachers, and has trained more than 29,000 teachers since 1997. PLTW has alliances with approximately 60 post-secondary and research institutions, and nearly 100 leading corporations and philanthropic organizations including Chevron, Lockheed Martin, the Kern Family Foundation, Autodesk, and Verizon.

The Plan for SJV

SJV will be implementing PLTW Launch program for our students in grades K-5 first, with middle school following in the future. This is a 3-5 year plan.

What PLTW Launch does is tap into their exploratory nature, engage them in learning that feels like play, and encourage them to keep discovering. The modules immerse students in hands on activities, projects, and problems that build upon each other and relate to the world around them. The program created an integrated learning experience, blending computer science, engineering, biomedical science, and more. Whether designing a car safety belt or building digital animations based on their won short stories, students engage in critical and creative thinking, build teamwork skills, and learn to try again when faced with challenges.

All programs are aligned with Common Core Standards for Math and Language Arts, and Next Generation Science Standards. PLTW provides an opportunity for students to apply math and science to solve problems.
