Saintly Quotes

You cannot please both God and the world at the same time. They are utterly opposed to each other in their thoughts, their desires, and their actions. —Saint John Vianney

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

With Thanksgiving approaching, we think of the quest of the Puritans who arrived on the Mayflower from their first exile in Leyden, Holland. Like the Catholics of England, they were religious dissenters who suffered penalties for not participating in the worship life of the established church. The Catholics established monasteries, schools, and convents on the continent to assure the vigor of their faith's intellectual and spiritual life.

The Puritans fled to the tolerant Netherlands with similar hopes of preserving their way of life, but were unable to adapt to Dutch ways.

There were Catholics who made a similar colonial journey. The hero of the story is George Calvert, Lord Baltimore, the former Secretary of State of Britain and a Catholic. He proposed that King Charles I establish a proprietary colony that he would own and rule, named Maryland in honor of the Catholic Queen Henrietta Maria. George Calvert died unexpectedly in the midst of this project, but his son Cecil faithfully carried out his father's wishes. Maryland became a symbol of freedom for wealthy recusant English families, as well as for the poor who held to the Catholic faith despite great hardship. From the start, the colony was open to Protestants and Catholics equally, and the seeds of the religious freedom so dear to the American spirit were sown with the first colonists in 1634. —Rev. James Catholic saints are holy people and human people who lived extraordinary lives. Each saint the Church honors responded to God's invitation to use his or her unique gifts. God calls each one of us to be a saint.

Saint Albert the Great, was a thirteenth century saint who was canonized by Pope Pius XI in 1931. Born in 1206 in an area of southwestern Germany known as Swabia, he came from a wealthy family who sent him to be educated at the University of Padua where an uncle of his resided. His family became upset when Albert decided to join the Dominican community there, and Albert was discreetly moved to a Dominican house in Cologne, Germany. There he became a scholar in mathematics, ethics, and the physical sciences and he wrote theological and biblical works. He would also teach at the University of Paris and became an instructor of Saint Thomas Aquinas, a great Catholic theologian. Albert also served as Superior of the Dominicans in Germany and he was called to Rome by the Pope to serve as theologian and canonist to the Holy Father.

In 1260 he was appointed Bishop to the Diocese of Regensburg in Germany. Interestingly, of all his positions this was the one that Albert found most difficult, and he resigned his episcopal office after only two years.

Saint Albert resumed his teaching career at Cologne, participated as a theologian at the Council of Lyons in 1274, and would travel to the University of Paris to defend the teachings of his student Thomas Aquinas, who had preceded his teacher in death. Albert lived a long life, although his last years were marked by a decline in health and activity. He died at Cologne on November 15, 1280—hence the date his feast is observed. Saint Albert the Great is remembered as a patron saint of students and scientists.

"Hope sees the invisible, feels the intangible and achieves the impossible."

GOD'S HEALING JUSTICE

An old expression holds that the sun-warmed stone heals. Perhaps. But Malachi explains that only dark, sunless days are in store for those who do not find a place for God in their lives. Conversely, he tells us that the warmth and light of God's healing justice await those who fear the Lord. That's a pretty comforting notion—especially now in the already short and growing even shorter days of November. It's the sun-warmed stone, and then some.

Paul speaks to us of justice as well, but points out that it is not a passive thing. To be treated justly, we need to do our fair share. If we are diligent and persevere we will be rewarded with and by the fruits of our labor. Lastly, Luke, too, tells us to persevere—in faith, this time—and our lives will be secure in God regardless of how we are treated by our enemies.

Reflection for Families: (November 13, 2016)

Thirty-third Sunday of Ordinary Time

Today's Gospel makes it clear that we should persevere in our faith and be faithful disciples. We are most responsible for evangelizing our own children. There is an expression, "Faith is caught, not taught." How do our children see us live out our faith? How do we witness the greatness of God's love and our personal response to that love? Share with your child(ren) what it means for you to walk with Jesus.

Question of the week:

Adults: When bad things happen, how do you deal with them?

Children: Have you ever worried about something that might happen? What can help you worry less?

THE SEASON OF ADVENT

THE MOTHER OF THE WORD MADE FLESH

BLESSED ARE THEY WHO HEAR THE WORD OF GOD AND KEEP IT!

Inspired by the Mother of Jesus, the defender of the poor and forgotten, we gather for our Advent Day of Prayer to explore what it means to be disciples of the Word Made Flesh. Our Advent Day of Reflection is an opportunity to rededicate ourselves to the following of Jesus transformed by the example of his Mother who was his First Disciple and so became the Mother of the Church by her faith and trust. As we prepare for the Great Season of Christmas, we renew our hearts to help transform our World through the love of God born in the person of Jesus. Confessions available after the Liturgy. $40 fee includes lunch.
