THE EPIPHANY OF THE LORD

They were overjoyed at seeing the star, and on entering the house they saw the child with Mary his mother. They prostrated themselves and did him homage. - Mt 2:10-11a

PARISH MISSION STATEMENT

Devoted to Jesus Christ as disciples,
we help others become disciples,
and work to renew our culture.

FORMED

OUR VISION

That all who experience St. John Vianney Parish in any way find Christ irresistible.

January 8, 2023, Solemnity of The Epiphany of the Lord— Formed.org.

Video overview: The story of the magi, the three wise men, who traveled from the East to pay homage to Jesus as the King of the Jews, is part of our Christmas tradition. (Incidentally, the Gospels never tell us that there were three; we get that number from the three gifts they brought, by assuming each brought one gift.) The Magi, after a detour to see King Herod, brought their most valuable possessions to lay at the feet of the newborn King. As we see the scene unfold, it doesn't look much like a royal court. It simply looks like a father, mother, and child, living in humble circumstances in a tiny, backwater town in a rural province of Rome. And yet, it was there that the magi encountered the King of all creation. In some ways, it can be the same for us at church. When we attend Mass, it can seem ordinary, almost mundane, because we do it week after week. We may even find our minds drifting to the things we are going to do when we get home instead of the fact that we are in the presence of the Lord of the Universe. The early Church Fathers encouraged Christians at Mass to meditate on the magi. It's a good lesson for us, as well. When we think about the magi approaching the Infant Jesus, we can take that same image to prayer in our lives. As we approach the Eucharist, we can see ourselves coming before the Lord, offering our most precious possession, our very lives, as we worship and adore him as the magi did those thousands of years ago.

Featured study: The Epiphany of the Lord (Year A) video

Reflection: In the first chapter of Venerable Fulton Sheen's wonderful Life of Christ, titled "The Only Person Ever Pre-Announced," he describes the wealth of prophecies of the coming of Christ, not just in the Old Testament, but also from cultures all over the ancient world. He cites the Romans Tacitus, Suetonius, Cicero, and Virgil. He cites evocative texts from the Greeks- from Aeschylus and the Sibyls, and points to the longing of Socrates and Plato for the Logos. He notes a remarkable story from The Annals of the Celestial Kingdom recounting that an emperor of the Tcheou dynasty in China saw a remarkable star in the southwest and inquired of his sages what this might mean: "They showed him books in which this prodigy signified the appearance of the great Saint of the West whose religion was to be introduced into their country." And this explains how the wise men in Matthew's Gospel knew to follow the star that led them to Bethlehem. Not only had the Jewish prophecies and the texts that carried them penetrated into the Persian and Babylonian cultures from which these men likely came, but it also seems the whole world was pregnant with longing for the wisdom of God and for release from sin. Jesus satisfies both longings. That ancient world was ripe for harvest, as we know. The whole of the Greco- Roman world was won for Christ in a remarkably short time, especially given the slowness of communication in that day. But our postmodern world we live in has grown tired of God and his truth. It believes that it has outgrown the wisdom of the ages. We live in a world that longs for novelty. Each year the liturgy reminds us, by telling this story of the newborn King, that what the world claims is outdated is, in fact, ever new.

What Happened at the Stable

On the First Thursday of the New Year we celebrated the Nativity of our Lord with a party. This Second Thursday we will find out what really happened the night Jesus was born in the stable. After the birth of our Lord Jesus, the angels sang happily for the first time in the world a Christmas Carol.

Yes, they did. And this beautiful carol sang by a choir of Angels was "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" — Glory to God in the highest!. After the angelic celebration, one of the Angels went to tell the Good News to the Shepherds working in the fields that night. Yes, they were the first ones to know about the newborn king, our God and Savior. They were the first humans to learn about the birth of Jesus. The Angel told the shepherds: "Do not be afraid", "Today a savior has been born to you, He is Christ the Lord". The Angel gave them a sign, saying: "Go and find the infant wrapped in swaddling cloths and lying in a manger". The Angel left and the shepherds went in haste into the City of Bethlehem to look for the newborn king. The shepherds found the Baby and after adoring Him, they offered Him gifts and after they went away to tell the others in town and in the fields. This Thursday in the Atrium, we will join the shepherds in adoring Jesus, our baby Good Shepherd. Please join us in celebrating too the Good News brought to the shepherds. Let us adore him and offer Him our most precious gift: "Our own Heart". Jesus, thank you for all your love for me!

Vatican News

By Courtney Mares, Vatican City, Dec 25, 2022

On Christmas Day, Pope Francis prays for Prince of Peace to end 'third world war'

In his Christmas Day blessing, Pope Francis prayed that leaders will listen to the "cries of the Prince of Peace" and bring an immediate end to the war in Ukraine and "the other theaters of this third world war."

Speaking from the central balcony of St. Peter's Basilica on Dec. 25, the pope offered the traditional "Urbi et Orbi" (to the city and the world) blessing, praying that the Lord will "enlighten the minds of those who have the power to silence the thunder of weapons."

"If we want it to be Christmas, the Birth of Jesus and of peace, let us look to Bethlehem and contemplate the face of the Child who is born for us. And in that small and innocent face, let us see the faces of all those children who, everywhere in the world, long for peace," Pope Francis said.

"Let us also see the faces of our Ukrainian brothers and sisters who are experiencing this Christmas in the dark and cold, far from their homes due to the devastation caused by ten months of war. May the Lord inspire us to offer concrete gestures of solidarity to assist all those who are suffering, and may he enlighten the minds of those who have the power to silence the thunder of weapons and put an immediate end to this senseless war!"

As the world celebrates the birth of the Prince of Peace, humanity is experiencing a "grave famine of peace," the pope said.
