Catholic Quotes

"Let us always pray for one another" — Pope Francis

BE A ROCK

Peter's history as a follower or friend of Jesus is a bit spotty. It might be natural to wonder if Jesus, in giving him the keys to the kingdom, didn't feel a bit like a parent giving a teenager the keys to the family car. But it was at the moment when God's power and presence broke through everything else to raise up Peter's great profession of faith in Christ as Messiah that Jesus chose to establish the bond between the loving, forgiving mercy of heaven and our vocation to be witnesses of that love, mercy, and forgiveness on earth.

Like any parent, Jesus no doubt foresaw the failings, the irresponsible maneuvers or impaired senses, the collisions that the church would be headed for. But, most importantly, he also saw us at that moment as God prefers to see us: capable of manifesting great faith, with a willingness to remain at the feet of Christ to understand what it truly means to be Messiah and Christ. As the letter to the Romans points out to us today, we have not known the mind or the wisdom of God, but God knows us and still chooses to manifest the reign of justice, joy, beauty, and peace through us. Let this be our vocation. Let us always strive to be solid ground on which the church of Jesus Christ can be founded and on which it can continue to be built. Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co., Inc.

ST JOHN THE BAPTIST: MARTYRED FOR THE TRUTH 8/29

John the Baptist was called by God to be the herald or forerunner of Jesus, the Messiah. From his late teenage years he was directed by the Spirit to lead a simple and contemplative life in the desert. At age forty he began to discharge his mission as a preacher of reform and renewal. Clothed in the robes of penance, he invited his people to have their sins washed away by repentance and baptism in the Jordan; He was revered by the people as a true prophet of God, and his voice rang out with a clear summons to moral and religious reform. John's message angered king Herod Antipas and his paramour Herodias, the wife of Herod's brother Philip, with whom he lived in defiance of the law. The Baptist reproached them for the scandal of incest and adultery, and was imprisoned by Herod.

At an eventful celebration in the royal palace, Salome, the daughter of Philip and Herodias, captivated the guests and Herod by her dancing, that Herod promised to grant whatever she asked. Urged by her mother, the girl demanded the death of John the Baptist. Acting on her wishes, Herod had John the Baptist beheaded in prison. According to Saint Jerome, the furious Herodias made it her pastime to prick that silenced tongue with a dagger. Today's feast honours this the great forerunner of Jesus, about a year before the Passion of our blessed Saviour, whose death on the cross he predicted so tellingly as "the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world."

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Eucharistic Prayer II is a popular choice for Mass since it is both simple in structure and short. It is written with a preface, which is the section after the dialogue "The Lord be with you . . . Lift up your hearts . . . Let us give thanks," which introduces all the Eucharistic Prayers. The preface states the reason for the Eucharistic assembly on that occasion, and there are dozens of them covering almost every imaginable gathering for prayer, some specific to feasts, others for Masses for the dead or for other needs. The preface attached to the second Eucharistic Prayer may be dropped in favor of a more appropriate choice, especially one of the prefaces for weekdays. The General Instruction of the Roman Missal says that Eucharistic Prayer II is best suited for weekdays or "special circumstances." In practice, however, it has become the common Sunday prayer because of its brevity and its comfortable familiarity. It also includes an optional phrase for adding the name of a deceased person remembered in the Mass, and therefore is often prayed at funerals. Article 50 of the Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy specified that the rites are to be simplified and restored "to the vigor they had in the tradition of the Fathers." The rebirth of this ancient Roman prayer is a worthy response to this call. —Rev. James Field, Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK — SUNDAY AUG. 27, 2017

Adults: Which Church leader has most influenced your personal faith?

Children: What has your pastor taught you about Jesus?

WHAT IS THE MELCHIZEDEK PROJECT?

The Melchizedek Project educates and inspires Catholic students to consider a vocation to priesthood. Most Catholic young men lack the in-depth information they need to prayerfully discern a vocation to priesthood. To help solve this problem, The Melchizedek Project helps form vocation discernment groups. Each discernment group uses as a guide Fr. Brett Brannen's book To Save a Thousand Souls: A Guide for Discerning a Vocation to Diocesan Priesthood. There is a discussion guide for each meeting corresponding to specific chapters in the book. The overarching aim of The Melchizedek Project helps men hear the call of Jesus Christ and discover their true vocation. This initiative is funded by The Institution for Priestly Vocations and the Our Sunday Visitor Institute, and is run by Vianney Vocations. First session begins 9/14/17, at St Mel Parish, pre-register by contacting the Vocations Office at 916-733-0258 or by email at msmith@scd.org
