OUR VISION

That all who experience St. John Vianney Parish in any way find Christ irresistible.

Aug 27 Twenty-First Sunday in Ordinary Time — Formed.org.

Review: "Who do you say that I am?" That question, asked by Jesus to Simon Peter in today's Gospel, sets the stage for a key foundation of the Catholic Church. Once Simon states that Jesus is the Messiah, then Jesus blesses him, changes his name to Peter (which means rock), and says that he will build his church upon that rock. This week's study will draw out two important themes from this passage. First, the symbolism of the rock. Solomon, the great king of Israel, built the Temple on the rock where Abraham offered his son Isaac as a sacrifice. With this background in mind, we will see that Jesus is saying that he is the new Solomon. Like Solomon, Jesus is the builder of the new temple, the Church. And just as Solomon built his temple on the rock of Abraham's sacrifice, so Jesus will build his-though not on a physical rock, but on Peter, the new rock. This new temple, which Jesus refers to as his kingdom, will be his church-the Catholic Church. Second, the keys. Jesus, knowing that he will not be physically present much longer, hands over the "keys of the kingdom" to Peter. We will see that in the Bible, the keys are a symbol for the king's prime minister, the caretaker of the kingdom. By giving Peter the keys of the kingdom, Jesus is appointing Peter as his prime minister in the kingdom he is building. From that moment on, Peter and his successors, the popes, have held a central leadership role for Christ's Church-one that recalls the prime minister of the Davidic kingdom of old.

Featured study: Peter: Keeper of the Keys

Reflection: In this text we see echoes of the first and second readings. The "keys" offered to the steward of the House of David in the first reading are disclosed as a prophecy of the "keys to the kingdom of heaven" given now to Peter. Like Eliakim, who is a steward chosen by God because he knows who God is and how to follow him, Peter, by a special gift of revelation, knows who Jesus is: "the Son of the living God." Peter, though weak and human, is to be the fixed "peg in a sure spot," who will guide the kingdom for his King when he ascends to heaven. That Peter, an unlettered fisherman - not a Levitical priest, not a scholar of the law - should take this important place in the kingdom is "inscrutable." And that God should use a mere man as his viceroy and that he should found a Church made up of sinful men to do his divine work is "unsearchable." That he should allow weeds and wheat to grow in the same field is a difficult thing for us to understand, and often still more difficult for us to bear. But once committing himself to come among us as a man, with all that that means, God remains true to the logic of his choice. Men, sometimes sinful, sometimes saints, will be called to hold those keys and to exercise the remarkable role of the steward of the kingdom of God, that office that we refer to as the papacy.

'Pope at Angelus: Mary's life marked by service and praise'

Pope Francis prayed the Angelus with the faithful gathered in Saint Peter's Square on Tuesday, the Solemnity of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary into heaven at the end of her earthly life.

Today, the Pope said, as "we contemplate her ascending in body and soul to the glory of Heaven," we also see Mary, in the Gospel, ascending "into the hill country" to help her cousin Elizabeth." It is there, the Pope notes, that Mary "proclaims the joyful canticle of the Magnificat."

"Mary ascends, and the Word of God reveals to us what characterizes her as she does so: service to her neighbor and praise to God," the Pope said, noting that Mary's life mirrors that of her Son: "Jesus and Mary... travel the same road, two lives that ascend upwards glorifying the God and serving the brethren."

"Mary ascends, and the Word of God reveals to us what characterizes us as she does so: service to her neighbor and praise to God."

Reflecting first on service, Pope Francis said, "It is when we stoop to serve our brethren that we rise; it is love that elevates life." At the same time, he acknowledged that serving others is not easy; there is a cost to helping others. Like Mary, who had travelled a long way to be with Elizabeth, we, too, find that being in service to others involves fatigue, patience, worries. "It is tiring," he said, "but it is ascending upwards, it is to gain heaven!"

CATECHESIS OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD (CGS)

One more week and the Atrium will open its doors again! Returning and new children will meet for the first time this year on September 7, 2023. The first weeks of atrium sessions are shorter sessions so the new children have time to adjust to the atrium routine. We will start with a session of 50 minutes on the first day, and sessions will increase 15 minutes each time we meet. In the first session all children are introduced to the Atrium, our Holy Bible is enthroned and children plant a plant to take care of during the entire year. Returning children will resume the two hours of Atrium work by the third Thursday. Please, pray that our children have a blessed and fruitful year with our Lord Jesus.

OCIA Adult Faith Formation

COME JOIN US!

If you've been coming to Mass for a while, but are not Catholic, we invite you to look deeper into the Catholic faith. Come meet some faithful Catholics who love the Lord and would consider it a privilege to get to know you. Our parish will soon begin a set of sessions to share with others the truths of the Catholic faith and the fellowship of our church family. We invite you to learn what Catholics believe in an open and welcoming environment. These sessions also are opportunities for you to ask those perplexing and difficult questions you may have about the Church.

Sessions are always held on Sundays at 8:00 am. This first session is August 27, 2023 in the Fireside Room. Feel free to come any Sunday.
