FIFTH SUNDAY OF LENT

PARISH MISSION STATEMENT

Devoted to Jesus Christ as disciples,
we help others become disciples,
and work to renew our culture.

FORMED

OUR VISION

That all who experience St. John Vianney Parish in any way find Christ irresistible.

March 26, 2023, Fifth Sunday Of Lent— Formed.org.

Review: The story of the raising of Lazarus is more than just an account of a miracle. The raising and unbinding of Lazarus sheds light on how God wants to heal the dead areas of our lives and free us from whatever sins, burdens, or wounds prevent us from living life to the fullest. When Jesus arrives at the tomb, he has the stone rolled away and calls Lazarus to come out. Lazarus emerges, although he is still bound in the burial cloths. We are often like Lazarus. We have areas in our lives that are dead and need to be enlivened again by Christ. But we also may be bound either by our own sins or by the hurt's others have inflicted on us. We may carry great burdens or worries or dysfunctional patterns of relating to others that bind us down and keep us from peace and happiness. Jesus wants to free us from those wounds; he wants us, like Lazarus, to be unbound. This week's Gospel shows us Jesus wants us to let him into all those places that have been rendered dead by sin. He wants to weep with us in his humanity, but also to reveal his divinity and bring about a total healing. He wants our better selves to step forward as he says to each of us, "Come out." Even if our situation seems hopeless-and certainly Lazarus' death seemed hopeless for his many mourners-nothing is impossible for God. All we need to do is surrender our lives to him and trust in him, for him to be able to bring us to new life.

Featured study: "Say YES to Christ" by Dr. Scott Hahn

Reflection: We might find it shocking that the greatest miracle that Jesus performed to define his saving mission as one to free mankind from death is the catalyst that causes the Jewish authorities to plot his death. The very act of life-giving ends in death-dealing. By definitively showing that he is "the resurrection and the life," Jesus precipitates his own death. The same act that causes Mary, Martha, and many of the Jews who had come to visit them to have faith in Jesus causes the opposite reaction in the Jewish authorities. There's no halfway in John's Gospel. One can walk in darkness or light, one is blind or sighted, one is alive or dead; no middle ground exists. Lazarus will die again, of course. But by that time there will be no death at all for those who believe. And it seems unlikely that Lazarus would ever be able to doubt Christ after this episode. Those who believe will have their faith confirmed by this event, and those who won't will find their resistance hardened by it. In no other episode in the Gospel story is Jesus shown so clearly for what he is: the resurrection and the life.

CATECHESIS OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD (CGS)

This week of Lent, we are half way through our preparation for the big celebration of Easter. This week we will join King Solomon and proclaim the verses of Psalm 23. Yes, we will recite with love, "The Lord is my Shepherd who gives me everything I need." We want to make this into our favorite prayer and offer it to our Good Shepherd as a response for all the love He has for each of us. Lent is time for prayer, for work, and for silence in preparation for the big celebration: EASTER DAY.

Vatican News

By Joseph Tulloch, Vatican City, March 15, 2023

'Pope at Audience: We are all called to be apostles'

At his Wednesday General Audience, Pope Francis continued with his series of catecheses on the "passion for evangelising", stressing that Christ calls everyone - priest, religious, lay - to be an apostle. The Holy Father's catechesis took the form of a reflection on several passages from the New Testament and from the documents of the Second Vatican Council, which together offer a vision of the universal call to mission.

Pope Francis began his catechesis asking what it means to be an apostle. The first characteristic, he said, is being sent for a mission, adding that this aspect of apostleship is exemplified by the event in which the Risen Christ sends his apostles into the world, "telling them that 'As the Father has sent me, even so I send you'" (John 20:21).

A second feature of being an apostle, Pope Francis continued, is vocation or calling. This, he said, has been a feature of Christian life since the very beginning, when Jesus "called to him those whom he desired; and they came to him" (Mk 3:13). It is also testified to in the letters of Saint Paul, who introduces himself as "Paul, called by the will of God to be an apostle of Christ Jesus" (1 Cor 1:1), and "Paul, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle" (Rm 1:1).

Pope Francis then went on to urge that all Christians receive this calling. He quoted from the Second Vatican Council's decree Apostolicam actuositatem, according to which "the Christian vocation by its very nature is also a vocation to the apostolate."
