AUGUST 28, 2022 | 22ND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

22ND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

“Rather, when you hold a banquet, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind; blessed indeed will you be because of their inability to repay you. For you will be repaid at the resurrection of the righteous.” - Lk 14:13-14

PARISH MISSION STATEMENT

Devoted to Jesus Christ as disciples,
we help others become disciples,
and work to renew our culture.

OUR VISION

That all who experience St. John Vianney Parish in any way find Christ irresistible.

August 28, 2022, 22nd Sunday in Ordinary Time – Formed.org.

Video overview: In today's Gospel reading we see people vying for places of honor. Jesus, however, challenges us to do just the opposite: to seek the "lowest place." While many in the world compete for worldly prestige and honor, Jesus is asking Christians to outdo one another in the practice of true humility. Real honor comes from seeking the glory of God, not the praise of men. We know from our experience that the honors of this world are fleeting. The trophy, the new position, the praise from your boss, and the time visiting with a famous person will not fulfill us. They ultimately are just smoke that will blow away and leave us only hungering for more. And when we seek recognition from others or go out of our way to draw attention to ourselves, our quest for worldly glory distracts us from finding our true identity and fulfillment in life which come from God alone. If we seek the "lowest place" with sincerity, however, we will have more room for God in our hearts. God will see our humility and bless us. He also will give us the ultimate reward—a place in his presence forever.

Featured study: Abraham: Father of Faith

Reflection: Luke's Gospel makes a primary theme of table fellowship. In this chapter, Jesus is attending a dinner and then gives two lessons, one to the invited guests and one to the host of the dinner who had invited them, about how to dine in the kingdom and then tells a parable about a rich landowner and the banquet he throws. In each case the lesson is that the humble are favored in this kingdom that Jesus announces. Those who have some status should seek the lowest place at table, he says. As St. Paul says—echoing his Lord—"Have the same regard for one another; do not be haughty but associate with the lowly; do not be wise in your own estimation" (Romans 12:16). Those who host should invite the lowly who cannot repay, so that God can repay. This is a common Old Testament and rabbinical theme, that God pays the debts of the poor, compensating those who give alms. Lastly, in the verses following those in our reading, Jesus tells a parable about a landowner who follows a very different pattern of hospitality and throws a party inviting his own class of people, none of whom accepts his invitation. So he sends his servants to bring in "the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind" (Luke 14:21). When his house is still not full he asks that everyone his servants can find be pressed to come, finishing with the phrase, "For, I tell you, none of those men who were invited will taste my dinner" (Luke 14:24). The common interpretation of this parable is that those like Jesus' host, a Pharisee who is described as "observing" Jesus, ostensibly to catch him in some infraction of the Law, will find their covenant invitations pulled and their places given to lowly covenant outsiders who will respond better to the compulsion of God's grace and enter the heavenly banquet. So, in the kingdom of God being an "A-list" invitee is less important than giving a generous response to the graces we receive, whenever they come.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT POPE FRANCIS' NEXT CONSISTORY

On Saturday, Aug. 27, Pope Francis will place a red biretta on the heads of 18 bishops and two priests, declaring them to be cardinals "to the glory of almighty God and the honor of the Apostolic See."

Here's what you need to know:

What is a consistory?

A consistory is a formal meeting of the College of Cardinals. The pope can convene them for several different reasons. One of the most common reasons for a consistory is to create new cardinals. The ceremony in which the pope makes cardinals is an ordinary public consistory. In addition to the red biretta, at the Aug. 27 ceremony, Pope Francis will also place a ring on the hand of each new cardinal while saying: "Receive this ring from the hand of Peter and know that, with the love of the Prince of the Apostles, your love for the Church is strengthened."

The pope will also assign each new cardinal a church in the Diocese of Rome, called a "titular church." This further links the cardinal to Rome and to the pope, who is the Bishop of Rome. The other members of the College of Cardinals, clergy, Catholics, and members of the public may all attend a consistory to create cardinals.

Another consistory the pope may convene is an ordinary consistory to vote on the causes of new saints, the last step before a formal canonization can take place. There are also extraordinary consistories, which every cardinal is expected to take part in, barring a serious reason.

The three consistories of August

The consistory to create cardinals on Aug. 27 will be an ordinary consistory, open to the public. A second public ordinary consistory will immediately follow it for cardinals to give their approval for the canonizations of two blessed: Giovanni Battista Scalabrini, an Italian bishop and founder of the Missionaries of St. Charles, and Artemide Zatti, an Italian immigrant to Argentina who was a nurse and Salesian Coadjutor Brother. Pope Francis has also called for an extraordinary consistory to take place Aug. 29-30. With this third consistory, the pope has asked the world's cardinals to come to Rome to discuss the new constitution of the Roman Curia, Praedicate evangelium.
